FAQ

1. What is a log number?

A log number is a unique, randomly assigned number that all successfully submitted applications receive. The log number represents the applicant's place in line. When resident selection begins, marketing agents start with the lowest log number and move sequentially to higher log numbers to find eligible applicants.

2. Are there any residency requirements?

Non-New York City residents can apply; however, preference is given to current New York City residents. Any applicant ultimately approved for this development must maintain the new apartment as their sole primary residence. If approved for an affordable housing unit, the applicant must surrender any unit where the applicant is then currently residing. Each member of the applicant's household who leases rental residential real property must terminate the lease for and surrender possession of such rental property on or before the move-in date for a rental affordable unit.

43-25 HUNTER AFFORDABLE LESSEE, L.L.C.

3. What are application preferences?

Preferences help select and determine applicants using fair criteria. Those who may be eligible for a preference or set-aside include: current New York City residents; persons residing in this development's community board; and persons who are municipal employees of the City of New York. A percentage of apartments is designated for persons with mobility, hearing, and vision disabilities.

4. What is Area Median Income (AMI) and how is it calculated?

Area Median Income refers to income levels modified by household size for the New York metropolitan area, as determined by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). For 2025, 60% of the AMI is $97,200 or a family of four in the New York Metropolitan Statistical Area and $68,040 for a single person for more information, visit www.hud.gov.

5. What are the eligibility factors?

- a. Income Eligibility: Check the lottery advertisement to see if your income qualifies. The ad shows the income level requirements, for each household size, for this housing opportunity.
- b. Qualification as a Household: The New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) and Housing Development Corporation (HDC) provide affordable housing opportunities for individuals, families and households who can document financial interdependence as a household unit.
- c. Credit History
 - Rentals: Applicants to rental units may choose to consent to a credit check or, provide evidence of full payment of total rent amount for the last 12 months.
 - Homeownership: Marketing agents and lenders evaluate credit history to determine if you may qualify for a private mortgage and, if so, what the terms of the mortgage may be.
- d. Criminal Background Checks
- e. Continuing Need: Applicants to HPD/HDC's affordable housing programs must demonstrate a continuing need for housing assistance through an analysis of their assets and recent income history.
- f. Property Ownership
 - Rental opportunities: Applicants to rental units may not own residential property, or shares in a co-op, in or within one hundred (100) miles of New York City.
 - Homeownership opportunities: No member of the applicant household may own, or have previously purchased, any residential property, including shares in a co-op.
- g. Asset Limits: There is a limit to the amount of total household assets allowed (excluding specifically designated retirement and college savings accounts). The household asset limit for rental units is equal to the maximum income limit for a four (4)-person household at the area median income (AMI) level for which the unit is designated.

6. Household Asset Limits:

Area Median Income (AMI): 60%

Asset Limit: $97,200

7. What happens if I get to the next step in this process?

You will be contacted when your log number has been reached for an eligibility interview. If you appear eligible and undergo a credit check, you may be charged a credit check fee of $20 per application. When a credit check must be run, you may provide your own credit check instead, for no fee, if completed within the last 30 days. If approved, you may have to move into your new unit very quickly. You will also be required to provide first month's rent plus a security deposit of the same amount.
